Subject: Formal apology letter

Dear Sirs/Madams,

This is the letter to convey my apology for giving incorrect information in my contribution in the conference proceedings Plagiarism Across Europe and Beyond 2017.

In the article called Raising Awareness About Scholastic Honesty At Higher Education Institution I stated (p.60), "The system has been used since 2010 and the experience is at the very least puzzling since the protocols of originality flag similarities with only other academic papers, not internet sources."

The information is incorrect since the system compared the papers against the other academic papers only during the first five months of functioning and since October 1, 2010 it compares it also against chosen sources on the internet, as stated in the source article (Kravjar, J. Antiplagiátorský systém. 2011. In INFORUM 2011: 17 konferencie o profesionálných informačných zdrojích. [online]. Praha 24.-26. 5. 2011 Retrieved from: <http://www.inforum.cz/pdf/2011/kravjar-julius.pdf>).

I sincerely apologize for the error in my contribution, and thank Mr. Kravjar from CVTI for bringing this to my attention in order for me to rectify it. It was caused by a lack of care on my part due to inattention and inadequate study of the source material.

It has taught me a lesson to review the source information more carefully before I include it in my work. Moreover I have also learned to stay more focused while working and avoid such embarrassing situations in the future.

I am once again sorry for the inconvenience caused.

Sincerely,
